

Astrological Indicators for Success

6 Classes
Thursday Evenings
September 9 to October 14
6:30 to 8:30 p.m. MST

In this time of world-wide recession and high unemployment it is important to identify the advantages one has over one's competitors. Astrology can provide the spiritual insights needed to identify and cultivate those advantages.

Our success or failure in life is determined by a combination of factors; the conditioning energy indicated in the astrological chart of birth, the habit systems to which we direct our will, and forces in the environment which either assist or impede our progress.

In this six-week course facilitated by Christopher Gibson we will discover:

- The impact of character and temperament on one's career path
- Natal chart indicators for vocational selection, employment opportunities, and financial success
- Progressed indicators of periodic success or failure
- Cultivating attitudes and habit systems for personal success
