THE NIGHT SKY- 2ND QUARTER 2012

Mercury: At the beginning of the 2nd Quarter of 2012, elusive Mercury can be viewed on the eastern horizon around 40 minutes before sunrise. On the mornings of April 18—19, and again on May 19—20, Mercury can be seen in conjunction with the crescent Moon. Mercury conjuncts the Sun on May 27 and then moves towards his position as an evening star during June. On June 20—21, the crescent of the New Moon can be seen with Mercury on the western horizon shortly after sunset.

Venus: During the 2nd Quarter of the year Venus will move from being the evening star to her role as morning star. Venus transits in front of the Sun's disc on June 6, a phenomena that will not repeat again until December 10, 2117. The Moon can be viewed on the western horizon in conjunction with Venus on April 24—25, and May 21—22. On June 17—18 the Moon can be seen with Venus on the eastern horizon shortly before sunrise.

Mars remains visible in the night sky throughout the 2nd Quarter of the year. He can be viewed in conjunction with the Moon on April 2—3, April 30—May 1, May 28—29, and again on June 25—26.

Jupiter: During the 2nd Quarter of 2012, Jupiter also passes from his position as an evening star to a morning star when he form a conjunction with the Sun on May 13. Look to the western horizon shortly after sunset on the evening of April 21-22 to the the New Moon Conjunct Jupiter. On May 19 the Moon Mercury and Jupiter will be conjunct on the eastern horizon at sunrise. The Moon Jupiter and Venus can be viewed on the eastern horizon before sunrise on June 16—18.

Saturn is visible in the night sky throughout the 2nd Quarter of the year. The Full Moon of April 6—7 can be viewed in conjunction with Saturn on the eastern horizon after sunset. The conjunction of the Moon and Saturn can be seen again on May 3—4, May 30—31, and June 27—28.

ONLINE CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS

The Basics of Egyptian Tarot

Mark your calendars for the weekend of April 28 and 29. From 9:00am to 4:00pm each day, Allyn McCray will host a Tarot Intensive on the Basics of Egyptian Tarot. This two-day seminar is available to students attending in person or online at Church of Light TV. You will NOT require a deck for this intensive. The suggested donation is $65.

Local participants will receive two catered lunches and a FREE Reading Workshop the following Saturday, May 5, from 10:00am to 3:00pm. The Reading Workshop will not be broadcast online and is available only to registered students who participated in the weekend. Lunch is not included during the Reading Workshop.

Interpreting Major Progressions

From the time of birth forward the planets continue to move and form relationships between one another, as well as to the planets in the chart of birth. They stimulate what can be best described as astrological weather conditions which attract specific trends of events and experiences into our lives.

In this astrological intensive taught by Christopher Gibson we will discover the interrelationship of the inner plane to the outer plane, and just how progressions work to attract events and experiences at specific times in one's life. Each evening we will focus on looking at sample charts, evaluating the progressed aspects for career, honor and success; health, vitality and illness; love, romance and marriage and other topics.

Each participant will be provided with a copy of his/her natal chart, astrodynes and current progressed aspects. Special emphasis will be given to reading progressions utilizing the Horoscope © program designed by Paul Brewer.

This course will be held on five consecutive Thursday evenings May 3rd—31st, from 6:30—8:30 p.m. MST. The suggested donation is $12 per class or $50 for the entire series of five classes.

No one will be turned away for lack of funds.
